WILD OLIVE

A Remarkable New Novel by the Author of THE INNER SHRINE

THE WILD OLIVE has the same remarkable qualities which made the author's previous novel, The Inner Shrine, the most widely read and talked of As a serial in Harper's Magazine, THE WILD OLIVE has called forth an unusual number of letters written in terms of almost extravagant praise and delighted in-The book, which is now ready, contains much new material not possible within the exigencies of serial space.

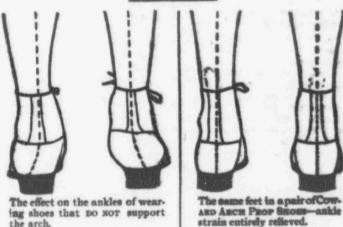

The title is quoted from St. Paul--"And thou, being a wild olive tree"—an allusion to the heroine's origin, which places her, a growth of nature, apart from the cultivated trees of the orchard—society.

ceizes the reader from the first chapter—a story of great vigor and de-lightful charm. The scene opens in the Adirondack wilderness, with a fugitive from justice, young and a gentleman, running through the ods at night. Looking through a cottage window he recognizes judge who condemned him—innocent. A girl's form outside beckons him to follow. The story rushes on, carrying the youth into rehabilitated manhood and the girl to the height of emotional sacrifice and final triumph.

Celia: At your request I will repeat the flesh-reducing formula which has proven so satisfactory to hundreds of too-fat people. Dissolve four ounces of parmodis in 13; pints warm water, take one tablespoonful three times a day. This is the harmless remedy which is so well spoken of,
and that has proven such a source of relief to over-fat neople. Prepare and take as directed, and you will not be bothered with the discomforts of too much flesh in warm weather. It generally reduces excess flesh rapidly without the necessity of dieting.

Grace H.: You should not have wrinkles or a coarse-looking complexion at your age. The use of a good complexion oream will be a big aid in your efforts to have a smooth. velvety complexion. Dissolve an ounce of almozoin in a half-pint cold water, and add two teaspoonfuls glycerine. Stir and let stand over night. Use this cream freely and it will do wonders for you in eradicating those wrinkles and making smaller those large, dust-collecting pores below the cyes. This cream lelly is very fine for removing blackheads, pimples and any undestrable discolorations of the skin. It contains no grease or oil to cause a growth of hair, and is unequaled for massaging and removing dust and dirt from the pores of the skin which soap and water will not take out.

Rosalie: If spectacles are so objectionable to you on account of making you look older, why don't you try a strengthening tonic for your eyes? Dissolve an ounce of crystos in a half-pint water, and put a few drops of this in each eye daily it is very strengthening to weak, tired or inflamed eyes, and may enable you to do without glasses. Many who have used this simple remedy for granulated eyelids, inflamed, weak, dull and tired eyes tell me it is excellent. I know it is used and prescribed by many oculists, and I have always found it very fine to make one's eyes sparkling and full of expression. It does not smart, but is very snothing and restful.
